Additional Notes

1. The middle and bottom ab plates have lines running vertically with the piece. This is to indicate where the actual plates will overlap.

2. The half circles indicate the edge where the templates must be taped together to form the full template.

3. The shin plates are made to overlap each other by about a 1/2”, starting with the top plate, then the second plate underneath the top, the third underneath the second, and the bottom plate underneath the third.
